

Assistant Director of School Consultation Services

The Center for Children with Special Needs seeks an Assistant Director of School Consultation Services to join our staff. We seek an individual with a Doctoral degree in Psychology or Special Education who is also Board Certified in Behavior Analysis. The candidate should have extensive experience with program management and consultation to support capacity-building for evidence-based programming as well as extensive experience working with individuals with autism spectrum disorders and other complex learning needs in education settings. Primary responsibilities will include coordination, implementation, and review of multi-site consultation projects. This will entail offering direct consultation support and clinical supervision to program staff, providing trainings, meetings with program directors, and review of other direct consultation support services provided by Center Staff. The position will require monitoring of several consultation projects with ongoing review and supervision support for acquisition of consultation goals and implementation fidelity. We seek an individual with excellent clinical and program management skills who is able to work collaboratively with interdisciplinary teams in a leadership role to promote evidence-based instruction at all levels. The Center offers a very competitive salary and exceptional benefits including full medical, tuition reimbursement, and funding for professional development activities. Salary would be commensurate with experience.
